Education

Over the summer months, the farm will continue its gardening activities with lots of hands-on garden classes for students. Planting, weeding, harvesting, and scouting for insects are among the list of chores and activities we do each day. We are also hosting Summer Campers on the farm this summer for fun garden-inspired activities! The Farm is also partnering with NC Cooperative Extension's Nutrition Education Program to provide a 6-week series of nutrition education classes to students this summer.
